

ANZAPS - Australia and New Zealand Association of Planning Schools

28-30 August 2009

Ship Inn, Building S06, Southbank, Brisbane, Queensland

Friday 28 August
1.30 pm to 2.00 pm	Welcome from the SEQ Planning Schools
2.00 pm to 3.15 pm	Paper Presentations
	Applied Social Knowledge and Social Planning: Tracing Legitimation 2	Jason Prior, Steve Harfield
	Capitalist Democracies and Societal Planning: Tracing Legitimation	Jason Prior, Steve Harfield
	Thinking Through Theory: Function Effect and Control	Steve Harfield
3.15-3.30	Afternoon Tea
3.30 pm to 5.15 pm	Paper Presentations
	Journey or Destination: Effective Learning in Transport Planning	Matthew Burke
	Securing suburbia: Oil vulnerability, planning practice and Australian cities	Jago Dodson, Neil Sipe
	Integrating Climate Change Adaptation into Planning Education: the UTAS experience	Julie Davidson
	Planning in Climate Change: Towards a Relational Framework for Action	Wendy Steele, Brendan Gleeson
5.30 pm to 7.00 pm	Opening Reception Club 88 Webb Centre (Griffith University) Level 7, Building S02 Southbank

Saturday 29 August
8.30-9.00	Tea and Coffee
9.00 am to 10.30 am	Paper Presentations (Accreditation)
	PIA Accreditation and Benchmarking of Planning Courses in Australia and New Zealand – An opportunity for shared benefits for all?	Paul McFarland, Wendy Beck, Robyn Bartel
	Comprehensive Student Profiling in the PIA Accreditation Process offers exciting new insights and strategic direction	Jenny George
	European Education and Australian Urban Planning Accreditation	Alan March, Anna Hurlimann, Jennifer Robins
	The Re-presented Core of New Zealand Professional Planning Education in 2009	Hamish Rennie, Ali Memon
10.30-10.45	Morning Tea
10.45 am to 12.15 pm	Paper Presentations (Education) Parallel Session
	Ship Inn - Level 1 S06	Lecture Room - 1.23 S07
	Evaluating the Effectiveness of Experiential Learning in Preparing Planning Graduates Claudia Baldwin, Johanna Rosier	Promoting Critical Perception of the City through Exposure to Difference Shaheed Khan
	The Shock of the New: Experimenting with Innovative Methods to Teach Core Curriculum Trevor Budge, Andrew Butt	Providing innovative planning education experience: teaching regional planning in an international context Tan Yigitcanlar, Severne Mayere, Roison McCartney, Mohd Zin Mohamed
	Customising work—integrated learning to meet the needs of postgraduate planning students Jenny George	The affordances of learning planning in Second Life Marco Amati
	Determining the relevance and effectiveness of Curtin University and Edith Cowan University's planning course to meet the needs of a modern planning system and students Gary Middle, Tim Perkins	Learning from the Australian Urban Land Use Planning Monitor Nicole Gurrán, Peter Phibbs

Saturday 29 August (continued)
12.15-1.00	Lunch then relocate to Lecture Theatre
1.00 pm to 1.45 pm	Ranking Planning Journals for the ERA	Robert Freestone
1.45 pm to 3.15 pm	NZPI / PIA / ANZAPS Education Policy/Accreditation	Steve Hamnett, Ali Memon
3.15-3.30	Afternoon Tea
3.30 pm to 5.30 pm	West End Field Trip Renowned for its economic, cultural and architectural diversity, West End is also good at throwing in a little of the urban unexpected. Local business owner, activist and planning educator Sarah Gall offers a guided walk through some of West End's most interesting byways, with a particular focus on the value of field trips for taking students "outside themselves" and working through complicated issues in experimental ways. It's best to bring a hat, water and comfortable walking shoes. There will be several opportunities for coffee shops and conversations with locals along the way
7.00 pm	Dinner Fox Hotel Corner of Hope and Melbourne Street South Brisbane

Sunday 30 August
8.30-9.00	Tea and Coffee
9.00 am to 10.30 am	World Planning Schools Congress Proposal	Paul Maggin
10.30-10.45	Morning Tea
10.45 am to 11.30 am	Meeting Wrap-up	Neil Sipe Johanna Rosier

SPONSORS

